The metal connector is used to connect sectional sofas together, if you are only using one piece of the sectionals, the connectors will not be used during the assembly. If you want to connect sectionals together, please use the connectors before the headrest is inserted. Place the sectionals upside down on a clean surface, and bring both of the parts as close as possible, make sure both of the parts are aligned, then fix the connector at 40 cm (about 16 inches) away from the front and back edges, then tighten the connector. After both parts are connected, flip them over and insert the headrest.
