

ARTLESS CARES

Solid Wood Care

Our Solid Wood pieces have a hand-rubbed oil finish, a more permeable and less intrusive finish. This finish allows the grain and tactility of wood to show thru, thus creating a more direct connection than the often-used varnish. Sealed and varnished wood is wrapped in a protective, artificial barrier, which limits and negates while protecting our engagement with the wood.

Our oil rubbed finish will allow the wood to behave and age naturally. This finish requires a bit more to maintain than if it was just hermetically sealed in a synthetic wrapper. We believe products should age and wear with grace and beauty. Allow them to develop nicks and scratches, thus gathering mementos of its life and interaction with you. Please limit the wood's exposure to direct sunlight. If water is left standing, spots can occur but should dissipate over time.

Daily Care: We recommend using a premium natural daily wood cleaner similar to Wood for Good from Method Home www.methodhome.com. Do not use harsh chemicals or abrasives.

Special Care: Depending on your home's environment and the piece's use, we recommend using the Howard's Feed-N-Wax provided in your ARTLESS CARES kit. We use it around once a month, but as often as once a week.

When your wood looks a tad opaque, apply as instructed and let it work its magic. We love this product- apply in moderation, a bit can go along way. Your skin requires lotion, why not your beautiful natural wood? Feel free to share it with your other wood products.
